Security Delivered Just the Way You Need It— At a Price that Meets Your Budget

Based on decades of experience protecting everything from the neighborhood eatery to major regional and national chains, STANLEY understands the security needs of restaurants. STANLEY offers one of the most comprehensive portfolios of products and services available to growing restaurants—all tailored to fit your security needs. With over 75 locations across North America, STANLEY service providers live and work right in your community and are focused on making you smile. Whether you're managing multiple alarm providers across all of your locations or looking for a true partner for your intrusion, video, access control and fire systems, see how switching to STANLEY can help your business save. Receive the benefits and cost savings of working with a national company like STANLEY and discover why national chains choose a single provider.

It's Time to PARTNER with STANLEY and save if you answer "yes" to any of the following:

- Paying multiple bills or invoices?
- Paying variable service rates from company to company?
- Receiving different levels of service and response times?
- Working with and responding to multiple monitoring stations?
- Working with 3rd party monitoring stations?
- Dealing with multiple account managers and representatives?
- Maintaining multiple phone numbers, PIN numbers and response plans?

Restaurants can switch to STANLEY for little or no up front cost.*
